

Information about Canta XL

The Canta Luxe is a small automobile, limited at 45 km/hr. Two persons can take place inside the Canta XL, they put on their safety belt and the GPS is activated. The GPS asks the person behind the wheel to « try to turn around ». As soon as the driver turns the wheel, the car will start turning around its axis. The two participants will go upside down and turn back around, like chicken on a spit. Just at the moment that their hairs and eyes are falling down, a picture is taken, which we will give to the participants at the end. After the turn, the GPS will say : « you have reached your destination ».

The Canta XL only needs electricity (220V). We can play 3 hours a day.

In case of rain, Actic decides if the installation can continue or should be closed, to prevent malfunction and damaging the installation and for the security of the passengers.
